

01 - As a New User When I try to create a new tour, the page shows the following error instead of proceeding:

"This page couldn't load. Reload to try again, or go back."

If I click Reload, instead of returning to the Basics step, the system automatically marks all the steps as completed and takes me directly to the Review page, even though no data has been entered in the required fields.

02 - If a tour is set to Paused or Archived, the Operator has no option to change the tour's status. There is also no option to submit the tour for review again, so the Operator cannot send it back to the admin for review and publishing.
